We are so happy that you joined Accra! It is an honor for us to provide the 245D Basic services that you need.

245D Basic support services provide the level of assistance, supervision and care that is necessary to ensure the health and welfare of the person and do not include services that are specifically directed toward the training, treatment, habilitation, or rehabilitation of the person.

The services are funded through a waiver and licensed by the Minnesota Department of Human Services. Through this program, you agree to interview, hire, train, and schedule employees. The employees are responsible for providing the services and supports as identified in the Support Plan Addendum.

The information contained in this handbook will help you become established in the program, provide information and samples for hiring and ensuring payment to your employees, and provide additional resources to assist you with other responsibilities. The materials included in this handbook are for informational purposes only; they do not create any terms or conditions of employment between Accra and the client.

Please keep this handbook available as a reference. It provides resources and contact information that will be needed as you hire and train staff. We will provide updates to the policies and procedures as they become available and whenever there is a change to rules and regulations. Please feel free to contact us with any questions or concerns.

Person-Centered Planning and Service Delivery Requirements

Policy

Accra strives to provide person-centered services to all the individuals we support. Person-centered is an attitude, a belief, and a value. It is an attitude of respect. It is a belief that all people have the right to be included. It is about valuing people for their gifts instead of seeing their disability or limitations, and recognizing that all people have gifts. It is not about trying to fix people. It does not cost money or take more time to be person-centered. It is, however, something that you need to ask yourself. What do you believe about people? Do you believe that all people should be included? That all people have gifts? That all people are worthy of respect? These are questions we all need to ask ourselves often.

At Accra our person-centered philosophy is a part of everything we do: our mission, our strategic plan, training, and most importantly, it is in the work we do each day. Everyone at Accra should be able to give daily examples of what they do to be person-centered. The philosophy of person-centered is the expectation for all staff in how we treat the individuals we support and is also the expectation for how we treat each other.

Procedure

As a service provider, Accra is required to provide services in response to each person's identified needs, interests, preferences, and desired outcomes as specified in the Support Plan. Accra strives to provide all services in a manner that supports each person's preferences, daily needs, and activities and accomplishment of the person's personal goals and service outcomes, consistent with the principles of:

Person-centered service planning and delivery that:

- Identifies and supports what is important to the person as well as what is important for the person, including preferences for when, how, and by whom direct support service is provided;
- Uses that information to identify outcomes the person desires; and
- Respects each person's history, dignity, and cultural background;

Self-determination that supports and provides:

- Opportunities for the development and exercise of functional and age-appropriate skills, decision making and choice, personal advocacy, and communication; and
- The affirmation and protection of each person's civil and legal rights; and

Champions of Homecare

Providing the most integrated setting and inclusive service delivery that supports, promotes, and allows:

- Inclusion and participation in the person's community as desired by the person in a manner that allows the person to interact with nondisabled persons to the fullest extent possible and supports the person in developing and maintaining a role as a valued community member;
- Opportunities for self-sufficiency as well as developing and maintaining social relationships and natural supports; and
- A balance between risk and opportunity, meaning the least restrictive supports or interventions necessary are provided in the most integrated settings in the most inclusive manner possible to support the person to engage in activities of the person's own choosing that may otherwise present a risk to the person's health, safety, or rights.

The following questions can be used by persons receiving services to help identify how they want services provided to them. It is recommended that the support team or extended support team discuss these questions together when completing service assessments, planning, and evaluation activities to help ensure the goals of person-centered planning and service delivery are met for each person served.

Accra Overspending Policy for PCA, Homemaker, and Basic 245D Services

Policy

It is the policy of Accra to demonstrate its mission ("Providing individualized services and supports to people with disabilities and older adults living at home in their community") in a cost effective and responsible manner. This means that in addition to delivering home and community-based services with a commitment to a person-centered approach philosophy, Accra must also be accountable to its fiduciary responsibilities. In other words, Accra must ensure that Participants are the drivers of their service delivery.

It is the policy of Accra that all Participants and Responsible Parties, accessing PCA, Homemaker, and/or Basic 245D Services, must ensure that they are not overspending (use more than) the total number of units/hours authorized on a participant's approved Service Agreement/Authorization of Services.

Overspending occurs when Direct Support Staff timecards are approved and submitted, by the Responsible Party, for hours which place the participant's active authorized Service Agreement into a negative balance.

The approval and submission of hours that result in client/participant overspending may result in termination of services from Accra PCA, Homemaker, and/or Basic 245D Services.

Overspending Prevention

Accra provides Participants/Responsible Parties with numerous tools to help ensure that they are aware of, and are managing, the available number of hours remaining in the participant's approved Service Agreement to ensure that overspending does not occur.

- Accra Access

Accra Access is an on-line Portal which gives Participants and Responsible Parties a real time account of available hours. Participants and Responsible Parties can view, at any time, how many hours have been used, through the last submitted timecards, as well as how many hours remain through the end of the current approved Service Agreement.

Champions of Homecare

For questions regarding accessing Accra Access, please email TechConnect@accracare.org or speak to your assigned Accra Qualified Professional or 245D Service Coordinator.

- Monthly Utilization Letters

For Accra participants who are not utilizing the Accra Access on-line Portal, a utilization letter is mailed to the Responsible Party, monthly, informing them of remaining service hour balances, for each Accra service, from the last timecard submitted.

- Ongoing Remaining Hours Education

Accra makes it a priority to review current client remaining hours at all Accra meetings. The participant's assigned Accra Qualified Professional or 245D Service Coordinator reviews, with the Responsible Party, current spending trends and remaining hour balances, at each scheduled meeting or visit to help ensure that Responsible Parties are monitoring and managing their remaining hours effectively.

- Accra Outreach Department

If/when an Accra PCA, Homemaker, or Basic 245D Services client is approaching the end of the available hours on their approved Service Agreement, participants may, depending on the situation, receive a phone call from Accra's Outreach Department.

The Accra Outreach Specialist may, depending on the situation, assist the Responsible Party with the following:

- Education and confirmation of current balance(s) of remaining hours
- Assistance with developing a plan to ensure overspending does not occur.
- Follow-up calls, as needed, to ensure that the developed remaining hours plan is understood and being followed.
- Inform the Responsible Party that Overspending has occurred and that all staff must stop working immediately until the current negative hour balance(s) is addressed and a new approved participant Service Agreement has begun.

While it is the Responsible Party's responsibility to ensure that overspending does not occur while accessing PCA, Homemaker, and/or Basic 245D Services, Accra is committed to working together, through direct verbal assistance and on-going, or regular, access to remaining hour balances to help prevent client overspending and possible termination of services.

Vulnerable Adult (VA) Policy

Policy

It is the policy of Accra to protect the adults served by this program who are vulnerable to maltreatment and to require the reporting of suspected maltreatment of vulnerable adults.

Procedures

As a mandated reporter, if you know or suspect that a vulnerable adult has been maltreated, you must report it immediately.

Where to Report

You can report to the Minnesota Adult Abuse Reporting Center by calling 844-880-1574 24 hours a day or online at mn.gov/dhs/reportadultabuse/.

Or, you can report internally to the Service Coordinator or Program Director. If the Program Director is involved in the alleged or suspected maltreatment, you must report to the Compliance Manager.

Internal Report

When an internal report is received, the Accra employee who receives the report must file an Incident Report and also file a report with MAARC immediately. The Incident Report, along with the VA report, is received by the Incident Review Team. This team will ensure that a VA report was filed with MAARC and direct the assigned Service Coordinator to check in on the health, well-being, and safety of the client. In addition, an internal review will be completed.

If you have reported internally, your identity will be protected. The internal employee that files the VA report with MAARC will receive a written notice from MAARC that states if the case will be investigated or if it does not meet criteria for investigation. At any time, you may also report directly to the Minnesota Adult Abuse Reporting Center if you are not satisfied with the outcome of your internal report to Accra. You are protected against all forms of retaliation if you decide to make a good faith report directly to MAARC, or internally to Accra.

Internal Review

When Accra has reason to know that an internal or external report of alleged or suspected maltreatment has been made, Accra must complete an internal review within 30 calendar days and take corrective action, if necessary, to protect the health and safety of vulnerable adults. The internal review must include an evaluation of whether:

- i. related policies and procedures were followed;
- ii. the policies and procedures were adequate;

Champions of Homecare

- iii. there is a need for additional staff training;
- iv. the reported event is similar to past events with the vulnerable adults or the services involved; and
- v. there is a need for corrective action by Accra to protect the health and safety of vulnerable adults.

Primary and Secondary Person or Position to Ensure Internal Reviews are Completed

The internal review will be completed by the Incident Review Team. If an individual from the Incident Review Team is involved in the alleged or suspected maltreatment, The Compliance Manager will be responsible for completing the internal review.

Documentation of the Internal Review

Accra must document completion of the internal review and make internal reviews accessible to the DHS commissioner immediately upon the commissioner's request.

Corrective Action Plan

Based on the results of the internal review, Accra must develop, document, and implement a corrective action plan designed to correct current lapses and prevent future lapses in performance by employees or Accra, if any.

Staff Training

Accra shall ensure that each new mandated reporter receives an orientation within 72 hours of first providing direct contact services to a vulnerable adult and annually thereafter. The orientation and annual review shall inform the mandated reporters of the reporting requirements and definitions specified under Minnesota Statutes, sections 626.557 and 626.5572, the requirements of Minnesota Statutes, section 245A.65, and all internal policies and procedures related to the prevention and reporting of maltreatment of individuals receiving services.

Accra must document the provision of this training, monitor implementation by staff, and ensure that the policy is readily accessible to staff, as specified under Minnesota Statutes, section 245A.04, subdivision 14.

 2. which is not the result of an accident or therapeutic conduct.
- b. "Self-neglect" means neglect by a vulnerable adult of the vulnerable adult's own food, clothes, shelter, health care, or other services that are not the responsibility of a caregiver which a reasonable person would deem essential to obtain or maintain the vulnerable adult's health, safety, or comfort.
- c. For purposes of this section, a vulnerable adult is not neglected for the sole reason that:
 1. the vulnerable adult or a person with authority to make health care decisions for the vulnerable adult, refuses consent or withdraws consent, consistent with that authority and within the boundary of reasonable medical practice, to any therapeutic conduct, including any care, service, or procedure to diagnose, maintain, or treat the physical or mental condition of the vulnerable adult, or, where permitted under law, to provide nutrition and hydration parenterally or through intubation; this paragraph does not enlarge or diminish rights otherwise held under law by:

5. an individual makes an error in the provision of therapeutic conduct to a vulnerable adult that results in injury or harm, which reasonably requires the care of a physician, and:
 - i. the necessary care is provided in a timely fashion as dictated by the condition of the vulnerable adult;
 - ii. if after receiving care, the health status of the vulnerable adult can be reasonably expected, as determined by the attending physician, to be restored to the vulnerable adult's preexisting condition;
 - iii. the error is not part of a pattern of errors by the individual.

Maltreatment of Minors Policy

Policy

It is the policy of Accra to protect the children served by this program whose health or welfare may be jeopardized through physical abuse, neglect, or sexual abuse.

Procedures

A. Who should report child abuse and neglect

1. If you provide care to children served by Accra, you are legally required or mandated to report and cannot shift the responsibility of reporting to your supervisor or to anyone else at Accra.
2. If you know or have reason to believe a child is being or has been neglected or physically or sexually abused within the preceding three years, you must immediately make a report to an outside agency. Immediately means as soon as possible.

B. Where to report

1. If you know or suspect that a child is in immediate danger, you must call 911.
2. Reports regarding incidents of suspected abuse or neglect of children occurring within a family home or in the community should be made to the child protection unit of your county social services agency.
3. If you do not know who to report to or cannot locate the number for your county's child protection unit, call Accra at 952-935-3515 and ask for Client Services who will assist you.

C. What to report

1. Definitions of maltreatment are contained in the Reporting of Maltreatment of Minors Act (Minnesota Statutes, chapter 260E) and attached at the end of this policy.
2. A report to any of the above agencies should contain enough information to identify the child involved, any persons responsible for the abuse or neglect (if known), and the nature and extent of the maltreatment and/or possible licensing violations. For reports concerning suspected abuse or neglect occurring within this program, the report should include any actions taken by this program in response to the incident.
3. An oral report of suspected abuse or neglect made to one of the above agencies by a mandated reporter must be followed by a written report to the same agency within 72 hours, exclusive of weekends and holidays.

D. Failure to report

A mandated reporter who knows or has reason to believe a child is or has been neglected or physically or sexually abused and fails to report is guilty of a misdeemeanor. In addition, a mandated reporter who fails to report maltreatment that is found to be serious or recurring maltreatment may be disqualified from employment in positions allowing direct contact with persons receiving services from programs licensed by the Department of Human Services and by the Minnesota Department of Health, and unlicensed Personal Care Provider Organizations.

Champions of Homecare

E. Retaliation prohibited

Accra, as employer of any mandated reporter, must not retaliate against the mandated reporter for reports made in good faith or against a child with respect to whom the report is made. The Reporting of Maltreatment of Minors Act contains specific provisions regarding civil actions that can be initiated by mandated reporters who believe that retaliation has occurred.

F. Internal review

1. When Accra has reason to know that an internal or external report of alleged or suspected maltreatment has been made, Accra must complete an internal review, within 30 calendar days, and take corrective action, if necessary, to protect the health and safety of children in care.
2. The internal review must include an evaluation of whether:
 - a. Related policies and procedures were followed;
 - b. The policies and procedures were adequate;
 - c. There is a need for additional staff training;
 - d. The reported event is similar to past events with the children or the services involved; and
 - e. There is a need for corrective action by the license holder to protect the health and safety of children in care.

G. Primary and secondary person or position to ensure internal reviews are completed: The internal review will be completed by the Designated Manager. If this individual is involved in the alleged or suspected maltreatment, the internal review will be completed by the Compliance Manager.

H. Documentation of the internal review

Accra must document completion of the internal review and provide documentation of the review to the DHS commissioner upon the commissioner's request.

I. Corrective action plan

Based on the results of the internal review, Accra must develop, document, and implement a corrective action plan designed to correct current lapses and prevent future lapses in performance by individuals or Accra, if any.

J. Staff Training

Accra provides training to all staff related to the mandated reporting responsibilities as specified in the Reporting of Maltreatment of Minors Act (Minnesota Statutes, chapter

Champions of Homecare

260E). The program must ensure that the policy is readily accessible to staff, as specified under Minnesota Statutes, section 245A.04, subdivision 14.

Rights Restrictions

Can My Rights Be Restricted?

Restriction of your rights is allowed only if determined necessary to ensure your health, safety, and well-being. Any restriction of your rights must be documented in your Support Plan or Support Plan Addendum. The restriction must be implemented in the least restrictive alternative manner necessary to protect you and provide you support to reduce or eliminate the need for the restriction in the most integrated setting and inclusive manner.

What Is Accra Required to Do If My Rights Will Be Restricted?

Before Accra may restrict your rights in any way Accra must document the following information:

1. The justification (meaning the reason) for the restriction based on an assessment of what makes you vulnerable to harm or maltreatment if you were allowed to exercise the right without a restriction;
2. The objective measures set as conditions for ending the restriction (meaning the Accra must clearly identify when everyone will know the restriction is no longer needed and it has to end);
3. A schedule for reviewing the need for the restriction based on the conditions for ending the restriction to occur semiannually from the date of initial approval, at a minimum, or more frequently if requested by the person, the person's legal representative, if any, and case manager (meaning that at least every six months, more often if you want, the program must review with you and your authorized representative or legal representative and case manager, why the restriction is still needed and how the restriction should change to allow you as much freedom as possible to exercise the right being restricted); and
4. Signed and dated approval for the restriction from you or your legal representative, if any.

Can Accra Restrict All of My Rights?

Accra cannot restrict any right they chose. The only rights Accra may restrict, after documenting the need, include:

1. Your right to associate with other persons of your choice;
2. Your right to have personal privacy; and
3. Your right to engage in activities that you choose.

What If I Don't Give My Approval?

A restriction of your rights may be implemented only after you have given your approval.

What If I Want to End My Approval?

You may withdraw your approval of the restriction of your right at any time. If you do withdraw your approval, the right must be immediately and fully restored.

Employee Protection (Whistleblower) Policy

The purpose of this Whistleblower Policy is to create an ethical and open work environment, to ensure that Accra has a governance and accountability structure that supports its mission, and to encourage and enable employees of Accra to raise legitimate concerns about the occurrence of illegal or unethical actions within Accra instead of turning to outside parties for resolution.

This policy is intended to apply to employees who report activities they consider to be illegal, unethical, or dishonest to one or more of the individuals specified in this policy.

Whistleblowers should not feel responsible for formally investigating the activity or for determining fault or corrective measures. Instead, as discussed below, appropriate management officials are charged with these responsibilities.

Examples of illegal, unethical, or dishonest activities include, but are not limited to, such things as:

- Violations of federal, state or local laws
- Activities that potentially violate health care reform laws
- Theft or inappropriate removal or possession of property
- Unethical, immoral, or criminal conduct in or outside of the workplace
- Falsification of timekeeping records
- Violation of OSHA or other regulatory standards
- Sexual or other unlawful or unwelcome harassment
- Unauthorized disclosure of business "secrets" or confidential information

If an employee has knowledge of or a concern of illegal or dishonest fraudulent activity, the employee is to contact his/her immediate supervisor or Human Resources. Human Resources will be responsible for investigating any concerns, as well as determining the proper course of corrective action. If an employee in Human Resources is the subject of the whistleblower complaint, another member of senior management will become responsible.

Insofar as possible, the confidentiality of the whistleblower will be maintained. However, identity may have to be disclosed to conduct a thorough investigation, to comply with the law and to provide accused individuals their legal rights of defense. Accra will not retaliate, nor permit retaliation against a whistleblower who brings forward a legitimate concern under this policy. Any whistleblower who believes he/she is being retaliated against must contact Human Resources immediately. The right of a whistleblower for protection against retaliation does not include immunity for any personal wrongdoing that is alleged and investigated.

Employees must exercise sound judgment to avoid baseless allegations. Employees who intentionally or recklessly file a false or baseless report of wrongdoing will be subject to discipline up to and including termination. Employees with any questions regarding this policy should contact their supervisor, or Human Resources. Accra also has a Whistle Blower number.

Policy on Deficit Reduction Act of 2005

January 24, 2017

I. Purpose and Policy Statement

Accra has a longstanding practice of fair and truthful dealing with its clients, families, health professionals, payers and other business associates. Accra is also committed to complying with all applicable laws and regulations and ensuring that billing to federal and state sponsored programs is accurate and conforms to applicable law. These Policies and Procedures are adopted to comply with the Employee Education about False Claims Recovery provisions of the Deficit Reduction Act of 2005 (hereinafter referred to as the "Deficit Reduction Act"). Section 6032 of the Deficit Reduction Act requires that any entity receiving or making annual Medicaid payments exceeding $5 million establish and disseminate to all of its employees (including management) and contractors written policies that set forth the entity's policies and procedures for preventing and detecting fraud, waste, and abuse in federal health care programs and that describe the federal and state false claims laws and related provisions. This policy summarizes Accra's existing policies and procedures for detecting and preventing fraud, waste, and abuse, including how to report concerns internally, and provides an overview of applicable federal and state laws as required by the Deficit Reduction Act.

II. Scope

This Policy applies to all staff and employees, officers, directors, agents and contractors.

III. Federal False Claims Act

The False Claims Act, 31 U.S.C. §§ 3729-3733 (hereinafter referred to as the "False Claims Act") provides, in pertinent part:

(a) Any person who (1) knowingly presents, or causes to be presented, to an officer or employee of the United States Government or a member of the Armed Forces of the United States a false or fraudulent claim for payment or approval; (2) knowingly makes, uses, or causes to be made or used, a false record or statement to get a false or fraudulent claim paid or approved by the Government; (3) conspires to defraud the Government by getting a false or fraudulent claim paid or approved by the Government; . . . or (7) knowingly makes, uses, or causes to be made or used, a false record or statement to conceal, avoid, or decrease an obligation to pay or transmit money or property to the Government, is liable to the United States Government for a civil penalty of not less than $5,000 and not more than $10,000, plus 3 times the amount of damages which the Government sustains because of the act of that person...

(b) For purposes of this section, the terms "knowing" and "knowingly" mean that a person, with respect to information (1) has actual knowledge of the information; (2) acts in deliberate ignorance of the truth or falsity of the information; or (3) acts in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information, and no proof of specific intent to defraud is required.

31 U.S.C. § 3729. While the False Claims Act imposes liability only when the claimant acts "knowingly," it does not require that the person submitting the claim have actual knowledge that the claim is false. A person who acts in reckless disregard or in deliberate ignorance of the truth or falsity of the information can be found liable under the False Claims Act. 31 U.S.C. § 3729(b).

The False Claims Act imposes liability on any person who submits a claim to the federal government that he or she knows (or should know) is false. An example may be a physician who submits a bill to Medicare for medical services she knows she has not provided. The False Claims Act also imposes liability on an individual who may knowingly submit a false record in order to obtain payment from the government. An example of this may include a government contractor who submits records that he knows (or should know) are false and that indicate compliance with certain contractual or regulatory requirements. The third area of liability includes those instances in which someone may obtain money from the federal government to which he may not be entitled, and then uses false statements or records in order to retain the money. An example of this so-called "reverse false claim" may include a hospital who obtains interim payments from Medicare throughout the year, and then knowingly files a false cost report at the end of the year in order to avoid making a refund to the Medicare program.

In addition to its substantive provisions, the False Claims Act provides that private parties may bring an action on behalf of the United States. 31 U.S.C. § 3730(b). These private parties, known as "qui tam relators," may share in a percentage of the proceeds from a False Claims Act settlement. Section 3730(d)(1) of the False Claims Act provides, with some exceptions, that a qui tam relator, when the Government has intervened in the lawsuit, shall receive at least 15 percent but not more than 25 percent of the proceeds of the False Claims Act action depending upon the extent to which the relator substantially contributed to the prosecution of the action. When the Government does not intervene, section 3730(d)(2) provides that the relator shall receive an amount that the court decides is reasonable and shall be not less than 25 percent and not more than 30 percent.

The False Claims Act provides protection to qui tam relators who are discharged, demoted, suspended, threatened, harassed, or in any other manner discriminated against in the terms and conditions of their employment as a result of their furtherance of an action under the False Claims Act. 31 U.S.C. § 3730(h). Remedies include reinstatement with comparable seniority as the qui tam relator would have had but for the discrimination, two times the amount of any back pay, interest on any back pay, and compensation for any special damages sustained as a result of the discrimination, including litigation costs and reasonable attorneys' fees.

IV. Federal Administrative Remedies for False Claims and Statements

The Program Fraud Civil Remedies Act of 1986, 31 U.S.C. §§ 3801-3812 (hereinafter referred to as "PFCRA"), sets forth administrative remedies for making false statements and claims. The penalties under PFCRA are imposed by administrative agencies and are in addition to other remedies that may be prescribed by law, including the False Claims Act. PFCRA imposes liability on persons, including entities, in the following circumstances:

- (1) Any person who makes, presents, or submits, or causes to be made, presented, or submitted, a claim that the person knows or has reason to know—
 - (A) is false, fictitious, or fraudulent;
 - (B) includes or is supported by any written statement which asserts a material fact which is false, fictitious, or fraudulent;
 - (C) includes or is supported by any written statement that—
 - (i) omits a material fact;
 - (ii) is false, fictitious, or fraudulent as a result of such omission; and
 - (iii) is a statement in which the person making, presenting, or submitting such statement has a duty to include such material fact; or
 - (D) is for payment for the provision of property or services which the person has not provided as claimed, shall be subject to, in addition to any other remedy that may be prescribed by law, a civil penalty of not more than $5,000 for each such claim. [Except as otherwise provided in PFCRA], such person shall also be subject to an assessment, in lieu of damages sustained by the United States because of such claim, of not more than twice the amount of such claim, or the portion of such claim, which is determined under this chapter to be in violation of the preceding sentence.

Champions of Homecare

- (2) Any person who makes, presents, or submits, or causes to be made, presented, or submitted, a written statement that—
- (A) the person knows or has reason to know—
 - (i) asserts a material fact which is false, fictitious, or fraudulent; or
 - (ii) (I) omits a material fact; and
 - (II) is false, fictitious, or fraudulent as a result of such omission;
 - (B) in the case of a statement described in clause (ii) of subparagraph (A), is a statement in which the person making, presenting, or submitting such statement has a duty to include such material fact; and
 - (C) contains or is accompanied by an express certification or affirmation of the truthfulness and accuracy of the contents of the statement, shall be subject to, in addition to any other remedy that may be prescribed by law, a civil penalty of not more than $5,000 for each such statement.

“Knows or has reason to know” under PFCRA does not require proof of specific intent to defraud and means that a person, including an entity, with respect to a statement or claim:

- (1) has actual knowledge that the claim or statement is false, fictitious, or fraudulent;
- (2) acts in deliberate ignorance of the truth or falsity of the claim or statement; or
- (3) acts in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the claim or statement.

V. State Laws Imposing Civil or Criminal Penalties for False Claims and Statements

A. Minnesota False Claims Act

The Minnesota False Claims Act, Minn. Stat. §§ 15C.01-.16 (hereinafter referred to as the “MFCA”) is similar to the federal False Claims Act and assists federal and state government in combating fraud and recovering losses due to fraud in government programs, contracts and purchases. MFCA imposes liability on persons, including entities, for the following acts:

- (1) knowingly presents, or causes to be presented, to an officer or employee of the state or a political subdivision a false or fraudulent claim for payment or approval;

Champions of Homecare

(2) knowingly makes or uses, or causes to be made or used, a false record or statement to get a false or fraudulent claim paid or approved by the state or a political subdivision;

(3) knowingly conspires to either present a false or fraudulent claim to the state or a political subdivision for payment or approval or makes, uses, or causes to be made or used a false record or statement to obtain payment or approval of a false or fraudulent claim;

(4) has possession, custody, or control of public property or money used, or to be used, by the state or a political subdivision and knowingly delivers or causes to be delivered to the state or a political subdivision less money or property than the amount for which the person receives a receipt;

(5) is authorized to prepare or deliver a receipt for money or property used, or to be used, by the state or a political subdivision and knowingly prepares or delivers a receipt that falsely represents the money or property;

(6) knowingly buys, or receives as a pledge of an obligation or debt, public property from an officer or employee of the state or a political subdivision who lawfully may not sell or pledge the property; or

(7) knowingly makes or uses, or causes to be made or used, a false record or statement to conceal, avoid, or decrease an obligation to pay or transmit money or property to the state or a political subdivision.

A person or entity is not liable under MFCA for acting negligently, inadvertently or mistakenly. Rather, a person must act "knowingly," which is defined as 1) having "actual knowledge of the information;" acting "in deliberate ignorance of the truth or falsity of the information;" or 3) acting "in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information." No proof of specific intent is required.

A violation of MFCA may result in civil penalties of between $5,500 and $11,000 per false or fraudulent claim, plus three times the amount of damages the state sustains as a result of the act, plus the costs and attorneys' fees the state incurs in bringing legal action. A person or entity may not be liable if it is informed by the original source of the information that one or more false or fraudulent claims have been made against the state and the person or entity repays the amount of actual damages to the state within 45 days after being so informed.

Champions of Homecare

Similar to the federal False Claims Act, MFCA provides that private parties may sustain an action on behalf of the state. Depending on whether the state intervenes in the private action, a successful private party may be entitled to between 15 percent and 30 percent of any recovery plus an award of costs and reasonable attorneys' and consultants' fees. However, if the defendant prevails in a private action and the court finds the claim was clearly frivolous, vexatious or brought in substantial part for harassment, then the court may award the defendant costs and reasonable attorneys' fees against the private party for bringing the action. MFCA also provides protections to employees disclosing information to the state, a political subdivision or a law enforcement agency. Employers are prohibited from discharging, demoting, suspending, threatening, harassing, denying promotion to, or otherwise discriminating against employees in the terms or conditions of employment because of lawful acts done by the employee on his or another person's behalf in disclosing information to the state in furtherance of action under MFCA, including investigations and providing testimony. Remedies include reinstatement, twice the amount of lost compensation, interest and special damages.

B. State Whistleblower Protection

In addition to the protections described above, Minn. Stat. § 181.932 provides additional protection to employees from adverse employment action in certain circumstances. Employers are prohibited from discharging, disciplining, threatening, or otherwise discriminating against or penalizing an employee regarding compensation, terms, conditions, locations, or privileges of employment because the employee:

- (1) In good faith, reports violations or suspected violations of federal or state laws or rules;
- (2) Participates in investigations, hearings or inquiries;
- (3) Refuses to perform an action reasonably believed to be in violation of state or federal laws or rules;
- (4) Reports, in good faith, below standard health care services situations; or
- (5) Is a public employee and communicates scientific or technical study findings that the employee, in good faith, believes are truthful and accurate.

Champions of Homecare

Disclosure of the reporting person's entity is governed by the Minnesota Data Practices Act, Minn. Stat. ch. 13. Section 181.932 does not protect an employee from statements that are false or made in reckless disregard of the truth.

C. Medical Assistance Fraud

Minn. Stat. § 609.466 provides:

Any person who, with the intent to defraud, presents a claim for reimbursement, a cost report or a rate application, relating to the payment of medical assistance funds pursuant to chapter 256B, to the state agency, which is false in whole or in part, is guilty of an attempt to commit theft of public funds and may be sentenced accordingly.

D. Vulnerable Adult Protections

Minnesota law provides protections for vulnerable adults against financial exploitation and maltreatment. Minn. Stat. § 609.2335 imposes criminal penalties of imprisonment and/or a fine on persons committing the crime of financial exploitation. In summary, acts constituting financial exploitation include:

- (1) In breach of a fiduciary duty recognized by law, a person:
 - (i) fails to use a vulnerable adult's property or financial resources to provide food, clothing, shelter, healthcare, therapeutic conduct or supervision;
 - (ii) uses, manages or takes either temporarily or permanently the vulnerable adult's property or financial resources, whether held in the name of the vulnerable adult or a third party, for the benefit of someone other than the vulnerable adult; or
 - (iii) deprives the vulnerable adult, either temporarily or permanently, his property or financial resources, whether held in the name of the vulnerable adult or a third party, for the benefit of someone other than the vulnerable adult; or

- (2) Without legal authority, a person:
 - (i) acquires possession or control of the vulnerable adult's interest in property or financial resources, whether held in the name of the vulnerable adult or a third party, through duress, undue influence, or harassment;

Champions of Homecare

- (ii) forces or entices a vulnerable adult against his will to perform services for the profit or advantage of another; or
- (iii) forms a relationship with fiduciary obligation to a vulnerable adult through undue influence, harassment, duress, force, compulsion, coercion or other enticement.

Minn. Stat. § 626.557 requires reporting of maltreatment of vulnerable adults. Professionals and their delegates engaged in the care of vulnerable adults and employees providing personal care assistance and home health care services are mandatory reporters. Mandatory reporters who have reason to believe that a vulnerable adult is being or has been maltreated, or who has knowledge that a vulnerable adult has suffered an injury that is not reasonably explained must immediately report the information to the county or its designee. Persons making a report in good faith are immune from civil or criminal liability. Mandatory reporters who negligently or intentionally fail to report are liable for damages caused by such failure.

E. Treble Damages

Minn. Stat. § 256B.121 provides:

Any vendor of medical care who willfully submits a cost report, rate application or claim for reimbursement for medical care which the vendor knows is a false representation and which results in the payment of public funds for which the vendor is ineligible shall, in addition to other provisions of Minnesota law, be subject to an action by the state of Minnesota or any of its subdivisions or agencies for civil damages. The damages awarded shall include three times the payments which result from the false representation, together with costs and disbursements, including reasonable attorneys' fees or their equivalent.

Accra has adopted a policy concerning employee's whistleblower rights. See policy.

VII. Accra's Fraud, Waste and Abuse Policy and Internal Reporting Procedure

Emergency Use of Manual Restraints Policy

I. Policy

It is the policy of Accra to promote the rights of persons served by this program and to protect their health and safety during the emergency use of manual restraints.

“Emergency use of manual restraint” means using a manual restraint when a person poses an imminent risk of physical harm to self or others and it is the least restrictive intervention that would achieve safety. Property damage, verbal aggression, or a person’s refusal to receive or participate in treatment or programming on their own, do not constitute an emergency.

Accra advocates for and endorses the use of positive approaches for supporting behavioral change. This policy is based on the fundamental regard for the integrity and dignity of each person. When an individual displays behavioral challenges, it is important to identify and address the function the behavior serves so underlying needs can be met. A critical part of this process is identifying the communicative intent of the behavior and teaching individuals alternative ways to communicate the same message.

II. Positive support strategies and techniques required

Accra believes in the use of positive behavioral support strategies and techniques and encourages all staff to use the following strategies to de-escalate an individual’s behaviors before it poses an imminent risk of physical harm to self or others.

- Follow individualized strategies in a person’s Support Plan and Support Plan Addendum;
- Shift the focus by verbally redirect the person to a desired alternative activity;
- Model desired behavior;
- Reinforce appropriate behavior;
- Offer choices, including activities that are relaxing and enjoyable to the person;
- Use positive verbal guidance and feedback;
- Actively listen to a person and validate their feelings;
- Create a calm environment by reducing sound, lights, and other factors that may agitate a person;
- Speak calmly with reassuring words, consider volume, tone, and non-verbal communication;
- Simplify a task or routine or discontinue until the person is calm and agrees to participate; or
- Respect the person’s need for physical space and/or privacy.

III. Permitted actions and procedures

Use of the following instructional techniques and intervention procedures used on an intermittent or continuous basis are permitted by Accra. When used on a continuous basis, it must be addressed in a person's Support Plan Addendum.

- A. Physical contact or instructional techniques must be use the least restrictive alternative possible to meet the needs of the person and may be used to:
 - 1. Calm or comfort a person by holding that persons with no resistance from that person;
 - 2. Protect a person known to be at risk or injury due to frequent falls as a result of a medical condition;
 - 3. Facilitate the person's completion of a task or response when the person does not resist or the person's resistance is minimal in intensity and duration; or
 - 4. Briefly block or redirect a person's limbs or body without holding the person or limiting the person's movement to interrupt the person's behavior that may result in injury to self or others.
 - 5. Redirect a person's behavior when the behavior does not pose a serious threat to the person or others and the behavior is effectively redirected with less than 60 seconds of physical contact by staff.
- B. Restraint may be used as an intervention procedure to:
 - 1. Allow a licensed health care professional to safely conduct a medical examination or to provide medical treatment ordered by a licensed health care professional to a person necessary to promote healing or recovery from an acute, meaning short-term, medical condition; or
 - 2. Assist in the safe evacuation or redirection of a person in the event of an emergency and the person is at imminent risk of harm.
 - 3. Position a person with physical disabilities in a manner specified in the person's Support Plan Addendum.
- C. Use of adaptive aids or equipment, orthotic devices, or other medical equipment ordered by a licensed health professional to treat a diagnosed medical condition that do not, in and of themselves, constitute the use of a mechanical restraint.
- D. Positive verbal correction that is specifically focused on the behavior being addressed.
- E. Temporary withholding or removal of objects being used to hurt self or others.

Champions of Homecare

IV. Prohibited Procedures

A. The use of the following procedures as a substitute for adequate staffing, for a behavioral or therapeutic program to reduce or eliminate behavior, as punishment, or for staff convenience, are prohibited by Accra:

1. Chemical restraint;
2. Mechanical restraint;
3. Manual restraint;
4. Time out;
5. Seclusion; or
6. Any aversive or deprivation procedure.

B. Definitions of Prohibited Procedures:

1. Chemical restraint - Chemical restraint means the administration of a drug or medication to control the person's behavior or restrict the person's freedom of movement and is not a standard treatment or dosage for the person's medical or psychiatric condition.
2. Mechanical restraint - Mechanical restraint means the use of devices, materials, or equipment attached or adjacent to the person's body, or the use of practices that are intended to restrict freedom of movement or normal access to one's body or body parts, or limits a person's voluntary movement or holds a person immobile as an intervention precipitated by a person's behavior.
 - a. Mechanical restraint does not include devices worn by the person that trigger electronic alarms to warn staff that a person is leaving a room or area, which do not, in and of themselves, restrict freedom of movement.
 - b. Mechanical restraint does not include adaptive aids or equipment or orthotic devices ordered by a health care professional used to treat or manage a medical condition.
 - c. Mechanical restraint does not include use of a seat belt under Minnesota Statutes, section 169.686; or use of a child passenger restraint system as required by Minnesota Statutes, section 245A.018, subdivision 1.
3. Manual restraint - Manual restraint means physical intervention intended to hold a person immobile or limit a person's voluntary movement by using body contact as the only source of physical restraint.

Champions of Homecare

4. Time out - Time out means the involuntary removal of a person for a period of time to a designated area from which the person is not prevented from leaving.
 - a. Time out does not mean voluntary removal or self-removal for the purpose of calming, prevention of escalation, or de-escalation of behavior.
 - b. Time out does not mean taking a brief break or rest from an activity for the purpose of providing the person an opportunity to regain self-control.

5. Seclusion - Seclusion means removing a person involuntarily to a room from which exit is prohibited by a staff person or a mechanism such as a lock, a device, or an object positioned to hold the door closed or otherwise prevent the person from leaving the room; or otherwise involuntarily removing or separating a person from an area, activity, situation, or social contact with others and blocking or preventing the person's return.
 - a. Time out and Seclusion are often confused. The key distinction between the two procedures is whether the person has the ability to exit when he/she has been involuntarily removed. Seclusion does not allow the person to exit that area while time out does.

6. Aversive procedure - Aversive procedure means the application of an aversive stimulus contingent upon the occurrence of a behavior for the purposes of reducing or eliminating the behavior. "Aversive stimulus" is defined as an object, event, or situation that is presented immediately following a behavior in an attempt to suppress the behavior. Typically, an aversive stimulus is unpleasant and penalizes or confines.

7. Deprivation procedure - Deprivation procedure means the removal of a positive reinforcer following a response resulting in, or intended to result in, a decrease in the frequency, duration, or intensity of that response. Oftentimes the positive reinforcer available is goods, services, or activities to which the person is normally entitled. The removal is often in the form of a delay or postponement of the positive reinforcer.

V. Manual Restraint is Not Allowed in Emergencies

- A. Accra does not allow the emergency use of manual restraint. The following alternative measures must be used by staff to achieve safety when a person's conduct poses an imminent risk of physical harm to self or others and less restrictive strategies have not achieved safety:

As an alternative to manual restraint Accra staff may use the following:

- Continue to follow individualized strategies in a person's Support Plan Support Plan Addendum;
- Continue to utilize the positive support strategies listed above;
- Ask the person and/or others if they would like to move to another area where they may feel safer or calmer;
- Remove objects from the person's immediate environment that they may use to harm self or others;
- Use an object such as a cushion to block the person's blows if they are trying to be aggressive towards you;
- Call 911 for law enforcement assistance if the alternative measures listed above are ineffective in order to achieve safety for the person and/or others. While waiting for law enforcement to arrive staff will continue to offer the alternative measures listed above if doing so does not pose a risk of harm to the person and/or others.

- B. Accra will not allow the use of an alternative safety procedure with a person when it has been determined by the person's physician or mental health provider to be medically or psychologically contraindicated for a person. This program will complete an assessment of whether the allowed procedures are contraindicated for each person receiving services as part of the required service planning required under the 245D Home and Community-based Services (HCBS) Standards (section 245D.07, subdivision 2, for recipients of basic support services.

Accra does not allow the use of manual restraint in an emergency. If the positive support strategies were not effective in de-escalating or eliminating the person's behavior, staff will contact "911" for assistance.

VI. Reporting Emergency Use of Manual Restraint

Champions of Homecare

- A. While it is the policy of Accra to not allow the emergency use of manual restraints, if a staff witnesses or suspects an emergency use of manual restraint was used they should report the incident of the emergency use of manual restraint according to the following process.
- B. Within 24 hours of an emergency use of manual restraint, the legal representative and the case manager must receive verbal notification of the occurrence as required under the incident response and reporting requirements in the 245D HCBS Standards, section 245D.06, subdivision 1. When the emergency use of manual restraint involves more than one person receiving services, the incident report made to the legal representative and the case manager must not disclose personally identifiable information about any other person unless the program has the consent of the person.
- C. Within 3 calendar days after an emergency use of a manual restraint, the staff person who implemented the emergency use must report in writing to the program's designated coordinator the following information about the emergency use:
 - 1. Who was involved in the incident leading up to the emergency use of a manual restraint; including the names of staff and persons receiving services who were involved?
 - 2. A description of the physical and social environment, including who was present before and during the incident leading up to the emergency use of a manual restraint;

Whether there was a debriefing with the staff and, if not contraindicated, with the person who was restrained and other persons who were involved in or who witnessed the restraint, following the incident. Include the outcome of the debriefing. If the debriefing was not conducted at the time the incident report was made, the report should identify whether a debriefing is planned.
- D. A copy of this report must be maintained in the person's service recipient record. The record must be uniform and legible.
 - E. Each single incident of emergency use of manual restraint must be reported separately. A single incident is when the following conditions have been met:
 1. After implementing the manual restraint, staff attempt to release the person at the moment staff believe the person's conduct no longer poses an imminent risk of physical harm to self or others and less restrictive strategies can be implemented to maintain safety;
 2. Upon the attempt to release the restraint, the person's behavior immediately re-escalates; and
 3. Staff must immediately re-implement the manual restraint in order to maintain safety.

VII. Internal Review of Emergency Use of Manual Restraint

- A. Within 5 business days after the date of the emergency use of a manual restraint, Accra must complete and document an internal review of the report prepared by the staff member who implemented the emergency procedure.
- B. The internal review must include an evaluation of whether:
 1. The person's service and support strategies need to be revised;
 2. Related policies and procedures were followed;
 3. The policies and procedures were adequate;
 4. There is need for additional staff training;
 5. The reported event is similar to past events with the persons, staff, or the services involved; and
 6. There is a need for corrective action by the program to protect the health and safety of persons.
- C. Based on the results of the internal review, Accra must develop, document, and implement a corrective action plan for the program designed to correct current lapses and prevent future lapses in performance by individuals or the program.
- D. The corrective action plan, if any, must be implemented within 30 days of the internal review being completed.

Champions of Homecare

1. Accra has identified the following person or position responsible for conducting the internal review and for ensuring that corrective action is taken, when determined necessary:

245D Designated Manager can be reached at: 952-935-3515 or 1-866-935-3515

VIII. Expanded Support Team Review of Emergency Use of Manual Restraint

- A. Within 5 working days after the completion of the internal review, Accra must consult with the expanded support team to:
 1. Discuss the incident to:
 - a. Define the antecedent or event that gave rise to the behavior resulting in the manual restraint; and

245D Designated Manager can be reached at: 952-935-3515 or 1-866-935-3515

IX. External Review and Reporting of Emergency Use of Manual Restraint

 1. Report of the emergency use of a manual restraint;
 2. The internal review and corrective action plan; and
 3. The expanded support team review written summary.

X. After an Emergency or Crisis Situation

- A. When an individual goes through an emergency or crisis situation, it is important to support the individual as well as yourself after the event. This stage for the individual can be referred to as Tension Reduction. At this stage, the individual is regaining control. They may have gone through a very frightening or traumatic experience, and may not even remember it all. The individual may feel confused, remorseful, sad, etc. Often the event is more frightening for them than it is for the staff involved in the event.

- B. At this stage, the employee should provide therapeutic rapport or communication. Many times, the individual is seeking to communicate. Some things that you can do to support the individual is to ask them to take a few deep breaths. This can serve two purposes, deep breathing helps a person relax, and if they follow your direction, they are showing that they have regained control. Talk with the person. Ask how they are, if they are willing to discuss the incident ask how they might act differently next time. It is time to give back their self-esteem, and give back control.
- C. You can also use the following:
 - C - control: The person needs to be in control emotionally, physically, and verbally. Make sure the person is able to carry on a conversation with you.
 - O - orient: Make sure you are oriented to the facts. Don't be judgmental. Listen to the client.
 - P - patterns: Are there patterns in the person's behavior, e.g., day of the week, time of the day, in response to the same activity or person.
 - I - investigate: Investigate options or alternatives to the inappropriate behavior. What could have been done differently. Ask the individual how they could have handled it differently.
 - N - negotiate: Negotiate together. You both want to win. Shake on it, write an agreement that the individual understands.
 - G - give: Give the individual verbal support. Give them back their dignity, give them back control.

XI. Employee Self-Care

- A. As staff involved in emergency or crisis situations, it is important that you take care of yourself after an incident. Learn to recognize the signs of stress or trauma, resulting from emergency situations, and develop tools, or actions, to best address these feelings. Those who recover most quickly are those who take specific actions to manage their responses and feelings.
- B. Common reactions to emergency or crisis situations include:
 - 1. Strong emotions including shock, fear, anger, grief, confusion or horror.
 - 2. Feelings of helplessness, disbelief, powerlessness or aloneness.

Champions of Homecare

3. Intrusive or upsetting thoughts or memories of the event.
 4. Difficulties sleeping.
 5. Problems with concentration, learning and decision-making.
 6. Extreme mood swings, irritability, restlessness, or outbursts of anger.
 7. Headaches, stomachaches, rashes, or other allergic reactions.
 8. Increased concern about the safety of loved ones or your own safety.
- C. Self-care strategies or coping techniques:
1. Stay away from mood-altering substances, including drugs and alcohol.
 2. Eat well-balanced meals.
 3. Exercise - even a little bit.
 4. Engage in activities that are meaningful to you.
 5. Get plenty of rest so that you feel rested and relaxed.
 6. Practice stress reduction techniques like deep breathing or meditation.
 7. Ask others directly for what you need and want.
 8. Do something to help others - give blood, donate food, volunteer.
- D. Caring for people can be emotionally overwhelming or stressful, at times, especially after emergency or crisis situations. Our challenge is to maintain our resilience so that we can keep doing our work with care, energy, and compassion.

Defining Sexual Violence

Sexual violence includes sexual assault and sexual abuse. Assault is a crime of violence, anger, power and control where sex is used as a weapon against the victim. It includes any unwanted sexual contact or attention achieved by force, threats, bribes, manipulation, pressure, tricks, or violence. It may be physical or non-physical and includes rape, attempted rape, incest and child molestation, and sexual harassment. It can also include exposure to sexual materials, and the use of inappropriate sexual remarks or language.

Sexual abuse is similar to sexual assault but is a pattern of sexually violent behavior that can range from inappropriate touching to rape. The difference between the two is that sexual assault constitutes a single episode whereas sexual abuse is ongoing.

Champions of Homecare

People with developmental disabilities may not understand what is happening or have a way to communicate the assault to a trusted person. Others may realize they are being assaulted, but do not know that it is illegal and that they have a right to say no. Due to threats to their well-being, they may never tell anyone about the abuse, especially if committed by an authority figure whom they learn not to question. Even when a report is attempted, they may face barriers when making statements to police because they may not be viewed as credible due to having a disability

Effects of Sexual Violence on Someone with a Disability

Sexual violence causes harmful psychological, physical and behavioral effects. The client may become pregnant, acquire sexually transmitted diseases, bruises, lacerations and other physical injuries. Psychosomatic symptoms often occur, such as stomachaches, headaches, seizures and problems with sleeping. Common psychological consequences include depression, anxiety, panic attacks, low self-esteem, shame and guilt, irrational fear, and loss of trust. Behavioral difficulties include withdrawal, aggressiveness, self-injurious and sexually inappropriate behavior

Signs of potential Sexual Violence

Physical: bruises or pain in genital areas, signs of physical abuse, headaches, stomachaches, sexually transmitted diseases.

Behavioral: depressions, substance abuse, withdrawal, avoids specific settings/people, sleep or appetite changes, crying spells, seizures, phobias, regression, guilt/shame feelings, self-destructive behavior, feelings of panic, sexually inappropriate behaviors, severe anxiety/worry, resists physical exam, learning difficulties, irritability, change in habits/mood.

Increased Risk Factors for persons with disabilities

- Reliance on caregiver to access resources/services
- Lack of transportation/lack of access to transportation
- Communication challenges
- Financial dependency or reliance on caregiver for access to finances
- Fear of perceived consequences (retaliation by offender, loss of caregiver, loss of independence, etc.)
- Fear of not being believed

- Manipulated to feel blame
- Lack of knowledge regarding sexuality
- Lack of knowledge regarding rights
- Socialized to be compliant
- Inhibited from being self-directed

Strategies to Help Reduce Risk of Sexual Violence for Individuals with Developmental Disabilities

- Ensure access to communication methods (phone, Internet, etc.) if help would be needed.
- Maintain access to assistive devices.
- Minimize financial dependency on one person; include more than one person in financial arrangements.
- Obtain and understand basic information on sexual violence, personal boundaries, personal safety and community resources.
- Inform caregivers and other service providers that sexual assault will be reported to law enforcement.
- Reduce isolation through multiple social connections (family, friends, neighbors, social networks, etc.) that occur unscheduled in person or via the phone or Internet.
- Have an individualized safety plan.

The Role of Consent

Consent is crucial when any person engages in sexual activity, but it plays an even bigger, and potentially more complicated role when someone has a disability. Some disabilities may make it difficult to communicate consent to participate in sexual activity, and some perpetrator may take advantage of this. People with disabilities may also not be given the same education about sexuality and consent that people without disabilities receive. In addition, someone who has a developmental or intellectual disability may not have the ability to consent to sexual activity, as defined by the state laws.

Champions of Homecare

In many instances, the person who has a disability may rely on the perpetrator for care or support, making it even more difficult to come forward.

Healthy Relationships / Bodily Autonomy

As Direct Support Staff, we want to support individuals with disabilities to have healthy relationships with others, as well as complete autonomy over their own bodies. The number one thing to encourage is the concept of, "My Body, my choice." Here are three tips that you can use when supporting someone around the area of relationships and bodily autonomy.

1. Support the person to understand boundaries within different types of relationships. Different types of relationships include friends, family, Direct Support Staff, and strangers. Interactions may look different with each of these groups and it is important to understand what types of feelings and touch are appropriate with each group.
2. Support the person to understand what "public" vs "private" spaces are and what behaviors are appropriate in each one. "Public" is when other people are there or might be there. It is a place where other people are free to move through or see in and out of. "Private" is when they are alone, and no one can come in or out of the space.
3. Support the person to understand that consent, or permission, needs to be given for any type of touch. Help them to understand that they should not feel uncomfortable about what is occurring. When discussing personal safety, review and practice being assertive and different ways to say "No".

Basic First Aid and Responding to Emergencies

The following information is intended to be a brief overview of basic first aid and safety. Families may request that care providers participate in a certified Standard First Aid and CPR course. Your role in an emergency situation can save a life. Calling 911 is the most important thing that you can do. The sooner medical help arrives the better a person's chance of survival.

1. Recognize the emergency exists.

Emergencies can happen anywhere at any to anyone. Before you can provide help, you must recognize the situation as an emergency. You may realize an emergency has occurred only if something unusual attracts your attention. Examples may include:

- Unusual noises - screams, yell, moans, groans, calls for help, breaking glass, crashing, screeching tires or sudden loud voices.
- Unusual sights - a stalled vehicle, overturned pot, spilled medicine, downed electrical wires, fire or smoke.
- Unusual odors - an odor stronger than normal or unrecognizable.
- Unusual appearance - difficulty breathing, clutching chest or throat, slurred or confused speech, confusion, sweating for no apparent reason, unusual skin color.

2. Decide to act.

Get involved and give direction. Follow the Check, Call, Care rule.

- CHECK the scene. Is it safe for you to approach? CHECK the victim. Is this a life threatening situation?
- CALL 911 or your emergency number for help.
- Provide CARE until help arrives.

When You Call 911:

1. Stay Calm
2. Answer all the operator's questions as best you can.
3. Don't hang up the phone until the operator tells you.
4. Follow the instructions that the operator gives you.
5. Wait for help

This overview is intended to assist you in providing care for minor injuries and for providing care until help arrives in an emergency.

Illness or Injuries That May Require Basic First Aid

Burns

Fire, sun, chemicals, heated objects, fluids and electricity can cause burns. They can be minor problems or life threatening emergencies. Distinguishing a minor burn from a more serious burn involves determining the degree of damage to the tissue of the body. If you are not sure how serious the burn is, seek emergency medical help.

- First degree burns are those in which only the outer layer of skin is burned. The skin is usually red and some swelling and pain may occur. Unless the burn involves large portions of the body, it can be treated at home.
- Second degree burns are those in which the first layer of skin has been burned through and the second layer of skin is also burned. In these burns, the skin reddens intensely and blisters will develop. Severe pain and swelling also occur. If a second degree burn is no larger than two or three inches in diameter, it can be treated at home. If the burn covers a larger area, seek medical attention. You may need a tetanus booster.
- Third degree burns are the most serious and involves all areas of the skin. Nerves, fat, muscle and sometimes bones may be affected. Areas may be charred black or appear a dry white. If nerve damage is substantial, there may be no pain at all. These burns should receive emergency medical attention.

Follow these steps when treating minor burns at home:

1. If the skin is not broken, run cool water over the burn for several minutes.
2. Cover the burn with a sterile bandage or clean cloth.
3. Take aspirin or acetaminophen to relieve any pain or swelling.

Seek emergency treatment immediately for major burns. Until an emergency unit arrives, follow these steps:

1. Remove the person from the source of the burn (fire, electrical current, etc.)
2. Remove all smoldering clothing to stop further burning.
3. If the person is breathing sufficiently, cover the burned area with a cool, moist, sterile bandage or clean cloth. Do not place any creams, ointments or ice on the burned area or break blisters.

Choking

The Heimlich maneuver is the best-known method of removing an object from the airway of a person who is choking. You can use it on yourself or someone else.

Champions of Homecare

1. Stand behind the choking person and wrap your arms around his/her waist. Bend the person slightly forward.
2. Make a fist with one hand and place it slightly above the person's navel.
3. Grasp your fist with the other hand and press hard into the abdomen with a quick, upward thrust. Repeat this procedure until the object is expelled from the airway.

If you must perform this maneuver on yourself, position your own fist slightly above your navel. Grasp your fist with your other hand and thrust upward into your abdomen until the object is expelled.

Cuts and scrapes

Small cuts and scrapes usually don't demand a visit to the emergency room, but proper care is necessary to keep infections or other complications from occurring.

When dealing with minor wounds, keep the following guidelines in mind:

1. Stop the bleeding by applying pressure, wearing rubber gloves, and using a gauze pad or clean cloth. If the bleeding persists after several minutes of applying pressure, get immediate medical attention.
2. Keep the wound clean by washing the area with mild soap and water and removing any dirt. Dry the area gently with a clean cloth and cover the wound with a protective bandage. Change the bandage at least once a day. If the wound becomes tender to the touch and red or oozes fluid, see your doctor.
3. If the cut is more serious and the bleeding does not stop on its own or the cut is large, deep or rough on the edges, try to stop the bleeding. Wear rubber gloves and apply pressure directly to the injury using a sterilized gauze pad or clean cloth. Maintain pressure on the wound until the bleeding stops. Consult a physician. A tetanus booster may be required.

Nosebleed

A nosebleed is sudden bleeding from one or both nostrils and may result from a variety of events: a bump to the nose, breathing dry air, allergies or for no apparent reason. To stop the flow from a common nosebleed, use these steps:

1. Have the person sit or stand upright to slow the flow of blood in the veins of the nose. Do not tip the head back.
2. Pinch the nose with your thumb and forefinger for 10 minutes without relieving pressure. The person should breathe through their mouth during this time.
3. If bleeding continues despite these efforts, consult a doctor or call 911.

Champions of Homecare

REMEMBER UNIVERSAL PRECAUTIONS WHENEVER YOU ARE DEALING WITH BODILY FLUIDS

Eye injuries - foreign bodies

Foreign bodies such as dirt, sand, wood or metal shavings may cause eye watering which may irritate the eye of the foreign body. If the object remains in the eye, have the victim blink several times. If the object still remains in the eye, gently flush the eye with water.

Poisoning

A poisoning may or may not be obvious. Sometimes the source of a poisoning can be easily identified - an open bottle of medication or a spilled bottle of household cleaner. Look for these signs if you suspect a poisoning emergency:

1. Burns or redness around the mouth or lips.
2. Breath smells like chemicals.
3. Burns, stains and odors on the person, his/her clothing, or on furniture, floor, rugs or other objects in the surrounding area.
4. Vomiting, difficulty breathing or other unexpected symptoms.

If you can find no indication of poisoning, do not treat the person for poisoning, but call 911 for help.

If you believe someone has been poisoned, take the following steps:

1. Ask the person what they swallowed or try to identify any open container near them. Immediately call your local poison control center for instructions. Keep the number by your telephone. Poison Control Hotline: 1-800-222-1222 or use the webPOISONCONTROL® online tool to get specific recommendations for unintentionally swallowed substances based on age, substance, and amount taken. Both options are free and confidential. Both options give you expert answers.
2. Provide reassurance.
3. Remain calm and give as much information to Poison Control as possible. They will direct you if any additional care can be provided in the home and will advise to call 911 or may call 911 for you.

Severe Bleeding

To stop serious bleeding, follow these steps:

1. Lay the affected person down. If possible, the person's head should be slightly lower than the trunk of his/her body or the legs should be elevated. This position increases the blood flow to the brain. If possible, elevate the site of the bleeding to reduce the blood flow.

Champions of Homecare

2. Do not attempt to clean the wound.
3. Apply steady, firm pressure directly to the wound using a sterile bandage, a clean cloth or your hand. Maintain pressure until the bleeding stops, then wrap the wound with a tight dressing and secure it with adhesive tape. Most bleeding can be controlled this way. Call for emergency help immediately.
4. If the bleeding continues and seeps through the bandage, add more absorbent material. Do not remove the first bandage.
5. If the bleeding does not stop, apply pressure to the major artery that delivers blood to the area of injury.
6. When the bleeding has stopped, immobilize the injured portion of the body. You can use another part of the body, such as a leg or torso, to immobilize the area. Leave the bandages in place and take the person for immediate medical attention or call for emergency help.

REMEMBER UNIVERSAL PRECAUTIONS WHENEVER YOU ARE DEALING WITH BODILY FLUIDS

Seizures

If a person is having a seizure, follow the Client's seizure protocol. Call 911 for seizures lasting five minutes or longer, for seizures that start, stop and restart again, or if the employee suspects an injury was sustained during the course of the seizure.

Threat of Suicide

If the Client is feeling suicidal or attempts to or threatens suicide, call 911. The employee may also call Crisis Prevention: 612-379-6363 or Suicide Prevention: 612-347-2222.

Shock

Shock can occur when a person has had a serious injury or illness. A variety of symptoms appear in a person experiencing shock.

1. The skin may appear pale or gray and it cool and clammy to the touch.
2. The heartbeat is weak and rapid. Breathing is slow and shallow and the blood pressure is reduced.
3. The eyes lack shine and seem to stare. Sometimes the pupils are dilated.
4. The person may be conscious or unconscious, if conscious, the person may faint or be very weak or confused. On the other hand, shock sometimes causes a person to become overly excited and anxious.

Even if a person seems normal after an injury, take precautions and treat the person for shock by following these steps:

Champions of Homecare

1. Get the person to lie down on his/her back and elevate the feet higher than the person's head. Keep them from moving unnecessarily.
2. Keep the person warm and comfortable. Loosen tight clothing and cover them with a blanket. Do not give them anything to drink.
3. If the person is vomiting or bleeding from the mouth, place them on his/her side to prevent choking.
4. Treat any injuries appropriately. (For example bleeding or broken bones.)
5. Summon emergency medical assistance immediately.

Weather Related Emergencies

Heat Exhaustion

Heat exhaustion occurs when your heart and vascular system do not respond properly to high temperatures. The symptoms of heat exhaustion resemble shock and include faintness, rapid heartbeat, low blood pressure, an ashen appearance, cold clammy skin and nausea.

If you suspect heat exhaustion:

1. Get the person out of the sun and into a cool spot.
2. Lay the person down and elevate his/her feet slightly.
3. Loosen or remove most or all of the person's clothing.
4. Give the person cold (not iced) water to drink, with a teaspoon of salt added per quart.

Heat Stroke

Heat stroke is a fever of 105 degrees Fahrenheit with hot, dry skin. Other signs include rapid heartbeat, rapid and shallow breathing, either elevated or lower blood pressure, and confusion or unconsciousness. Heat stroke is an emergency that needs immediate attention.

If you suspect heat stroke:

1. Get the person out of the sun and into a cool spot.
2. Cool the person by covering him/her with damp sheets or spraying with water.
3. Direct air onto the person with a fan or newspaper.
4. Monitor the person's temperature with a thermometer.
5. Stop cooling the person when his/her temperature returns to normal.

BE AWARE THAT SOME MEDICATIONS MAY CAUSE SENSITIVITY TO THE SUN. ALWAYS USE SUNSCREEN.

Frostbite

Frostbite is distinguishable by the hard, pale, and cold quality of the skin that has been exposed to the cold. As the area thaws, the flesh becomes red and painful. If the fingers,

Champions of Homecare

ears or other areas are frostbitten, get out of the cold. Warm their hands by tucking them into their armpits. If the nose, ears, or face are frostbitten, warm the area by covering it with dry, gloved hands. Do not rub the affected area. If numbness remains during warming, seek professional medical care immediately. If unable to get immediate emergency assistance, warm severely frostbitten hands or feet in warm, not hot, water. (The water should be between 100- and 105-degrees Fahrenheit.)

Bloodborne Pathogens Exposure/Needlestick Exposure Policy

Effective Date: April 1, 2022

Revised Date:

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to establish guidelines for bloodborne pathogen exposure and needlestick exposure for the safety of employees, to prevent the spread of communicable diseases, and to promote the health of all employees.

Policy

It is policy of Accra for all employees to follow universal precautions, infection control practices, and safe handling/disposal of sharps for infection prevention and control.

What is an Exposure?

Blood/bodily fluid contact with mucous membranes:

- Eyes
- Nose
- Mouth

Blood/bodily fluid contact with broken skin or piercing mucous membranes or the skin barrier through such events as:

- Needle sticks
- Bites
- Cuts
- Abrasions

Procedure

Bloodborne Pathogen Exposure

Champions of Homecare

All employees are encouraged and expected to practice “Universal Precautions” (treating blood and other bodily fluids from everyone as potentially infectious.) Gloves are expected to be used by the employee when coming into contact with bodily fluids (i.e., first aid, diapering, treating minor wounds, etc.) If glove supply needs replenishing, the employee is responsible to talk with the responsible party or the client, as it is the client’s responsibility to make sure gloves are available to the employee.

If a blood exposure should occur (exposure being a blood splash to eyes, nose, mouth, or non-intact skin):

- Thoroughly wash the affected area immediately with soap and hot water.
- Provide basic first-aid treatment, if necessary.
- Employee must report to the Human Resources Employee Benefits team within 24 hours of the exposure or injury, to report as a worker’s compensation incident. Human Resources will report the exposure with the Disease Prevention & Control Nurse.
- Human Resources Employee Benefits team will complete a First Report of Injury and submit to NPIA (worker’s compensation carrier).
- NPIA will issue a Workability Form to the employee. The employee must bring this form to their occupational health appointment.
- Human Resources Employee Benefits team will work with the employee and the Minnesota Occupational Health Clinic to schedule a time for the Employee to be tested.
- The Disease Prevention and Control Nurse will contact the source/client to obtain verbal consent for their blood specimen for testing and email the form for client signature. Testing location to be determined with the client at that time
- The assigned Human Resources Employee Benefits Team Member will contact employee after results are obtained from the Occupational Health Clinic. The Disease Prevention and Control Nurse will contact the client after client results are obtained.
- Accra will follow the recommendations from the Occupational Health Provider on additional testing and timeframes.

Champions of Homecare

- Human Resource will document the first report of injury/exposure on the OSHA 300 log.

Needlestick Exposure

All employees are encouraged and expected to practice safety measures around sharps that are used by someone else. Employees should ensure that they observe the areas that they are cleaning prior to task to ensure that the area is safe and there are no sharp objects that could cause injury to the employee. If a sharp object or needle is discovered, you should never pick it up with your hands. Use a tong or dustpan with brush to remove the item and dispose of it in a sharp's container or other appropriate receptacle (i.e. laundry detergent bottle designated for Sharps disposal. If using anything other than a standard red sharps disposal container, it must be labeled as such). Tell your employer about any hazards from needles that you observe in your work environment.

If you sustain a needles tick injury you should take the following actions immediately:

- Thoroughly wash the affected area immediately with soap and hot water.
- Provide basic first-aid treatment, if necessary.
- Employee must report to the Human Resources Employee Benefits team within 24 hours of the exposure or injury, to report as a worker's compensation incident. Human Resources will report the exposure with the Disease Prevention & Control Nurse.
- Human Resources Employee Benefits team will complete a First Report of Injury and submit to NPIA (worker's compensation carrier).
- NPIA will issue a Workability Form to the employee. The employee must bring this form to their occupational health appointment.
- Human Resources Employee Benefits team will work with the employee and the Minnesota Occupational Health Clinic to schedule a time for the Employee to be tested.
- The Disease Prevention and Control Nurse will contact the source/client to obtain verbal consent for their blood specimen for testing and email the form for client signature. Testing location to be determined with the client at that time.

- The assigned Human Resources Employee Benefits Team Member will contact employee after results are obtained from the Occupational Health Clinic. The Disease Prevention and Control Nurse will contact the client after client results are obtained.
- Accra will follow the recommendations from the Occupational Health Provider on additional testing and timeframes.
- Human Resource will document the first report of injury/needlestick injury on the OSHA 300 log.

How to clean up a spill

- a. Any blood clean-up/ bodily fluids will be done using appropriate PPE. Soiled surfaces will be cleaned and then disinfected with 1 to 10 bleach solution or Lysol brand disinfectant

Record Keeping

Accra Human Resources will maintain confidential health record for each employee exposed under the bloodborne pathogen standard; health records will include the following information:

*Employee's name and SSN;

*Results of examination, medical testing, and post-exposure evaluation and follow up procedures.

*Health care professional's written opinion; and

Communicable Disease Policy

Policy:

As part of our commitment to providing a safe, healthy and productive workplace, Accra has adopted this Policy to help protect clients and Direct Support Staff from the spread of and exposure to communicable diseases. A communicable disease is an illness due to an infectious agent that is transmitted directly or indirectly from one person to another. Responsible Parties are responsible for understanding and enforcing this Policy.

Scope and Purpose:

This policy covers Accra's response to those diseases that may be communicable in a work environment, including, but not limited to, Chickenpox, Ebola Virus, Swine Flu, COVID-19, Active TB (tuberculosis), Avian Flu, Measles, Chicken Pox, or MRSA Staph Infection (referred to collectively as "communicable illnesses").¹ However, these are just examples and this Policy covers any communicable illness that poses a credible threat of transmission in our workplace.

This policy is applicable to all Direct Support Staff.

Definitions:

Workplace: For the purposes of this Policy Workplace means anywhere Accra authorized services are delivered to the client.

Direct Support Staff: Means Direct Support Professionals (DSPs), Personal Care Attendants (PCAs), Individualized Home Support (IHS) Staff, Home Makers (HMs), Respite Staff, Night Supervision Staff and Individual Community Living Supports (ICLS) Staff.

A communicable disease is defined as an illness due to an infectious agent that is transmitted directly or indirectly from one person to another. Additional examples of communicable diseases include, for example, Hepatitis B, Meningitis, Mumps, Rubella, SARS and the common cold. Also, please refer to the chart, below, for more information on methods of transmitting communicable illnesses

Champions of Homecare

Responsible Party Responsibilities:

Responsible Parties should be ready to answer questions from employees about the Policy. If anyone has a specific question about the Policy or a possible communicable illness, and the Responsible Party cannot answer the question, the person should contact Accra Human Resources.

The Responsible Party is expected to set a good example by washing their hands before eating and after using the restroom, regularly using hand sanitizer, seeking medical attention for scrapes and cuts, making sure any open wound is kept clean and covered, and encouraging this same behavior from all Direct Support Staff.

Accra strongly encourages all Responsible Parties, clients, and Direct Support Staff to protect themselves from getting the seasonal flu by getting the seasonal flu vaccine each year. For more information on the current seasonal flu vaccine, refer to <http://www.cdc.gov/vaccines/>. Even if a person has just a cold or seasonal flu, they should be strongly encouraged to stay at home until they are well enough to return to work and their condition is no longer contagious.

Direct Support Staff Responsibilities:

This Policy informs Direct Support Staff of their responsibility to report to the Responsible Party and Accra Human Resources in the event the employee:

1. has had symptoms related to a communicable illness that increase the risk that the illness may be transmitted to another;
2. been diagnosed with a communicable disease that is not sufficiently controlled so that contact with the client poses a risk of transmission;
3. has been in close contact with a person diagnosed with or being screened for a communicable illness without appropriate protection so that the Direct Support Staff now presents a heightened risk of transmission of the communicable illness;
4. been in an area with widespread, sustained transmission of a communicable illness such as areas CDC designates Level 3 [<https://wwwnc.cdc.gov/travel/notices>], or other High Risk areas Accra identifies;

Champions of Homecare

5. is or should be quarantined related to a communicable illness; or
6. cannot effectively cover a contagious skin condition or an HSV-1 breakout or lesion to ensure that they can completely prevent any skin-to-skin contact.

Information relating to a Direct Support Staff's health status will be maintained in a confidential manner as set forth in this Policy.

Direct Support Staff Illness and Returning to Work:

Direct Support Staff must limit any exposure to other Direct Support Staff or clients contracting a communicable disease or illness. If a Direct Support Staff is not able to do so effectively and perform his or her work, Direct Support Staff must immediately notify their client's Responsible Party and Accra Human Resources. Direct Support Staff must not present themselves at work where they might expose other Direct Support Staff or clients to contracting a communicable disease or illness.

Direct Support Staff must follow all CDC and public health organizations guidance regarding how to limit exposure to risk of contracting a communicable disease or illness. Guidance often excludes healthcare workers.

Direct Support Staff with symptoms of the flu, cold or other communicable disease or illness must not come to work if that involves interaction with other Direct Support Staff or clients until the Direct Support Staff has been free of fever, signs of a fever, and any other symptoms of the flu, cold or other communicable disease or illness for at least 24 hours or as recommended by the CDC, without the use of fever-reducing or other symptom-altering medicines (e.g. cough suppressants).

A doctor's note certifying fitness for duty (i.e. return to work authorization) may be required.

Potential Exposures in the Workplace:

As we all know, communicable illnesses can vary greatly in their degree of seriousness, ease of transmission, and risk to others. As a result, Accra may change its response to potentially communicable illnesses as the situation warrants.

Accra will follow all applicable regulations or instructions issued by federal, state or local public health authorities, the CDC or other governmental agencies. Accra will generally follow guidelines or recommendations issued by these sources, taking into account our own particular workplace circumstances.

Champions of Homecare

To limit germs and resulting illnesses, we ask that Responsible Parties and Direct Support Staff support these best practices:

- Wash hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds.
- If soap and water are not available, use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer.
- Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.
- Avoid close contact with people who are sick, unless you are wearing appropriate protection.
- Stay home when you are sick.
- Cover your cough or sneeze with a tissue (or an elbow or shoulder if no tissue is available), then throw the tissue in the trash and wash or sanitize hands.
- Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces.
- Never mask a fever with Tylenol or Advil in order to come to work.

Human Resources Responsibilities:

When there is a reported or suspected case of a potential communicable illness diagnosis or exposure in the workplace, the Accra Human Resources Department or management will:

1. Coordinate with whoever is responsible for Environmental Health and Safety (Emergency Action Response Team), benefit carriers, and the legal department or outside counsel, as needed.
2. Work with the diagnosed or potentially exposed Direct Support Staff (“potential carrier”) to learn more about the Direct Support Staff’s symptoms or possible exposure; assist with accommodations, leave requests, and benefits coordination (if applicable) for the diagnosed/potential

- carrier; and follow up with medical providers to obtain certifications and return to work documentation, as needed.
3. Create a list of other employees potentially exposed to the potential carrier while that person may have been contagious, and assist those persons with information, accommodations, leave requests, benefits coordination and medical documentation, as needed.
 4. Maintain all medical information confidentially to the extent possible and consistent with applicable law.

Emergency Action Response Team Responsibilities:

When there is a report or suspected case of a potential communicable illness diagnosis or exposure in the workplace, the members of the Emergency Action Response Team will:

1. Create, update, and maintain documentation describing the report and possible exposure, and Accra's internal response plan.
2. Research the communicable illness to: (a) develop Accra's coordinated internal response plan; (b) be able to provide answers to potentially exposed Direct Support Staff, as well as their clients and Responsible Parties; and (c) make efforts to prevent the spread of the communicable illness and eradicate it from the premises.
3. Work with the Responsible Party to prevent the spread of the communicable illness and eradicate it from the premises by, among other things, providing necessary personal protective equipment, as needed, and encouraging the Responsible Party to thoroughly clean any potentially exposed surfaces that could lead to the spread of the illness, and informing those potentially exposed what they should do about it.
4. Determine if the issue should be reported to any state or federal occupational safety and health agency or to any public health officials and follow through with any reporting requirements.
5. Maintain all medical information confidentially to the extent possible and consistent with applicable law.
6. Determine if Accra should take any proactive steps to help prevent the spread of potentially communicable illnesses in the future and implement those steps.

Champions of Homecare

Potential Exposure (Travel or Otherwise):

Accra generally follows and recommends that Direct Support Staff follow travel advisories issued by the CDC, the State Department, Federal/State/Local health officials, and other government agencies. This means that travel may, or should, be curtailed in whole or in part in the event of an outbreak of a communicable illness in a specific geographic area (a "Risk Area").

1. Potential Exposure Due to Work-Related Travel
 - a. If a Direct Support Staff is required to travel to a Risk Area for work, and the person becomes or believes he/she may be ill, the Direct Support Staff must inform his/her Responsible Party and Accra Human Resources Department immediately.
 - b. If, as a result of work-related travel, the Direct Support Staff is neither ill nor symptomatic upon returning, but quarantine is required or recommended by a public health official or medical provider, Accra would require the Direct Support Staff to follow the recommendations. The Direct Support Staff will be placed on the appropriate type of leave (such as workers' compensation) during the period of quarantine based on the relevant circumstances.
 - c. If, as a result of work-related travel, the Direct Support Staff's exposure is confirmed, compensation will be handled as a Confirmed Work-Related Exposure (outlined below).
 - d. Accra does not permit work-related travel to Risk Areas identified as a level 3 by the CDC.

2. Confirmed Work-Related Exposure
 - a. If a Direct Support Staff becomes or believes they may be ill as a result of a work-related exposure, the person must inform their Responsible Party and a member of the Accra HR Department immediately.

Champions of Homecare

- b. A report of injury will be completed and submitted to Accra's workers' compensation carrier for a determination on work-relatedness and compensability. The Direct Support Staff will need to remain out of the workplace and Accra will compensate the employee as required by law or Company policy until a determination of compensability is made.
- c. If there is a confirmed work-related exposure and liability under workers' compensation is accepted, wage loss benefits will be paid in accordance with workers' compensation laws.
- d. If there is no confirmed work-related exposure and/or the claim is denied, compensation will be handled as a Personal Exposure (outlined below).

3. Personal Exposure

- a. If a Direct Support Staff becomes or believes he/she may be ill due to exposure for a non-work-related reason (i.e., not for reasons outlined above), the employee must inform his/her Responsible Party and a member of Accra Human Resources Department immediately.
- b. If the Direct Support Staff becomes ill or symptomatic due to a non-work-related reason, the Direct Support Staff should review Accra's benefits and leaves of absence policies to determine if they are eligible for such benefits or leaves of absence (e.g., Family and Medical Leave Act Policy). Employees should contact Accra Human Resources for more information.
- c. If a Direct Support Staff is neither ill nor symptomatic, but quarantine is required or recommended by a public health official or medical provider for a non-work-related reason, and the Direct Support Staff will be provided with the option of using accrued PTO/vacation time, if available.

Champions of Homecare

Reasonable Accommodation:

If Accra receives notice that a Direct Support Staff is requesting a reasonable accommodation for a communicable disease, Accra will request that the accommodation request be made in writing. Accra will engage the Direct Support Staff in the interactive process, which may include requesting information from the Direct Support Staff and the Direct Support Staff's medical provider to determine whether reasonable accommodation can be made. In reviewing accommodation requests, Accra will consider, among other relevant factors, the health and safety of other persons with whom the Direct Support Staff regularly interacts in the workplace.

A Direct Support Staff may physically return to work when there is no longer risk of transmitting the communicable disease to others, and provided the Direct Support Staff is able to perform the essential functions of the job with or without a reasonable accommodation.

Quarantine:

In the instance of quarantine, it is the Direct Support Staff's responsibility to provide Accra with written confirmation from a public health official of any quarantine period, as soon as practicable. While under quarantine, the Direct Support Staff may be advised not to report to work for a specified period of time. In such cases, Accra will require the Direct Support Staff to remain away from work until the specified quarantine period ends or the Direct Support Staff becomes free of the communicable disease as determined by the medical provider, whichever occurs first.

Confidentiality/Privacy:

Except for circumstances in which Accra is legally required to report workplace occurrences of communicable disease, the confidentiality of all medical conditions will be maintained in accordance with applicable law and to the extent practical under the circumstances. When it is required, the number of persons who will be informed of the Direct Support Staff's condition will be kept at the minimum needed not only to comply with legally-required reporting, but also to assure proper care of the Direct Support Staff and to detect situations where the potential for transmission may increase. Accra reserves the right to inform other Direct Support Staff that a co-worker (without disclosing the person's name) has been diagnosed with a communicable disease if the other Direct Support Staff might have been exposed to the disease so the Direct Support Staff may take measures to protect their own health.

Champions of Homecare

Discrimination Free:

Accra prohibits discrimination, harassment, and retaliation because of a Direct Support Staff's disability or medical condition, including a communicable disease.

Responsibility:

In all cases of an absence due to the contraction (or potential contraction) of a communicable disease, the affected Direct Support Staff must notify their Responsible Party and Accra Human Resources immediately that the Direct Support Staff has contracted or has potentially contracted a communicable disease.

Anyone who discovers evidence of a communicable disease that could endanger the health of others in the workplace must report it immediately to Accra Human Resources. Accra will notify the appropriate health department officials as deemed necessary or if such reporting is required by law.

General Questions

Given the variety and nature of the communicable illnesses covered by this Policy, Accra may modify this Policy on a case-by-case basis. Accra's response to possible exposures to communicable illnesses not discussed or specifically covered by this Policy will be determined on a case-by-case basis.

If you have any questions concerning this Policy, please contact the Accra Human Resources Department.

Universal Precautions and Sanitary Practices Policy

Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to establish guidelines for universal precautions and sanitary practices to prevent the spread of communicable diseases for our employees and participants and to promote the health of employees and the individuals receiving services through sanitary practices.

Policy

It is the policy of Accra to follow universal precautions and sanitary practices, including hand washing, for infection prevention and control, and to prevent communicable diseases. Employees should always wear gloves when providing any personal care for their client, which may involve potential exposure to bodily fluids. Employees can purchase gloves for use with their client and may submit their receipt to Accra for reimbursement. When there is potential for transmission of a communicable disease, additional personal protective equipment may be needed, such as masks. If additional personal protective equipment is needed, please contact your SC (or QP) for guidance.

Procedures

A. Universal precautions, sanitary practices, and prevention

Universal precautions apply to the following infectious materials: blood; bodily fluids visibly contaminated by blood; semen; and vaginal secretions. All staff are required to follow universal precautions and sanitary practices, including:

1. Use of proper hand washing procedure - see hand washing handout
2. Use of gloves in contact with infectious materials, including soiled laundry
3. Use of a gown or apron when clothing may become soiled with infectious materials
4. Use of a mask and eye protection, if splashing is possible
5. Use of gloves and disinfecting solution when cleaning a contaminated surface
6. Proper disposal of sharps
7. Use of gloves and proper bagging procedures when handling and washing contaminated laundry

B. Control of communicable diseases

1. Staff will report any signs of possible infections or symptoms of communicable diseases that a person receiving services is experiencing to the Responsible Party.

Champions of Homecare

2. When a person receiving services has been exposed to a diagnosed communicable disease, staff will promptly report to the Responsible Party.
3. Staff diagnosed with a communicable disease, may return to work upon direction of a health care professional.
4. For information on communicable diseases please refer to the following website: <http://www.health.state.mn.us> (Reportable Infectious Diseases: Reportable Diseases A-Z)

Blood Exposure Information

All staff are encouraged and expected to practice "Universal Precautions" (treating blood and other body fluids from everyone as potentially infectious.) Gloves are expected to be used by staff when coming in contact with bodily fluids (i.e., first aid, diapering, etc.) If glove supply needs replenishing talk to the Responsible Party or the Participant, it is their responsibility to make sure gloves are available.

- If a blood exposure should occur (exposure being a blood splash to eyes, nose, mouth, or non-intact skin):
- Wash the affected area immediately.
- First-Aid treatment if necessary.
- Report immediately to the Qualified Professional, with-in 24 hours.
- Follow-up may be necessary with a physician for proper assessment, treatment, and counseling.

If the status of the exposure is unknown, or if you are bitten and the bite breaks the skin, this should be treated as an exposure as well.

What Is Exposure?

Blood contact with mucous membranes:

- Eyes
- Nose
- Mouth

Blood contact with broken skin or piercing mucous membranes or the skin barrier through such events as:

- Needle sticks
- Bites
- Cuts
- Abrasions

Basic Principles of Body Mechanics

Anytime you are required to move something, whether a person or a box of work materials, you need to THINK AND PLAN. THINK about the size of the load. Do you need help? THINK about the position of your feet, legs and back and THINK about using the correct muscle groups. PLAN the lift or carry so you move the object or person no further than absolutely necessary. Rearrange the room or work area if need be. Whenever possible, use equipment (wheeled office chairs or carts) to transport items instead of carrying them. Store materials on knee-to-shoulder level shelves in order to reduce lifting from floor or overhead positions.

The following rules of body mechanics serve as a guide to moving people and objects safely and efficiently. Practicing these principles will greatly decrease the risk of injuries associated with lifting and carrying.

Familiarize yourself with the principles of good body mechanics. Practice your body position in front of a mirror. Get a 10-pound box and practice lifting it, using the principles of good body mechanics.

1. If the object is large or heavy, avoid moving it alone. Use assistive lifting devices for large clients, carts or dollies for work materials.
2. Stretch and warm up before lifting or physically assisting clients.
3. Do not move an object any further than is absolutely necessary. Arrange the surface to which the object is to be moved as close as possible to the surface from which it is transferred.
4. Keep your arms and the object as close to your body as possible throughout the move.
5. Maintain the three natural curves in your back.
6. Bend at the knees and hips rather than at the waist. Do not twist at the waist while you are lifting. Pivot or move your feet.
7. Keep your feet flat on the floor and spread them about the width of your shoulders. Place one foot back giving you a firmer base of support. Your back foot should be used as a pivot base when transferring an object and should be closest to the direction you want to move. Pivot on this foot when you are turning.
8. Use your whole body when pushing, pulling or lifting - not just your back and arms.
9. Lift slowly and smoothly.
10. Use transfer belts with the individual as advised for the individual.
11. Exercise and practice good posture to keep your back healthy and strong.

Champions of Homecare

Proper Lifting Techniques

One of the biggest possible reasons for back injuries is improper client lifting techniques. Those in caregiving professions should learn and practice the techniques for moving clients as this can be a large part of your job. Learning to perform proper lifting will reduce injuries and increase client safety. When performed correctly, even caregivers who are smaller than their client, can move patients without injury.

General Considerations Prior To Lifting:

- Know the weight of your client.
- Know your own limitations and be realistic. If you cannot safely move the client on your own, get help. Or if the client has an assistive lifting device (sliding board, transfer belt, hoist lift, etc.), be sure to use it after being trained on how to use it properly.
- Have a plan of action. Whether you're working alone or with another caregiver, know how you plan on moving the client, what steps you'll be taking, and what you'll do if Plan A doesn't work.
- Communicate, both with the other caregiver and with the patient. When everyone is on the same page, injuries are minimized and all efforts are more efficient.

Proper Technique for General Movement:

- Consider your alignment. By keeping your head and neck aligned with your spine you minimize the risk for sprains and strains.
- Bend and lift with the knees, not at the waist. Bending at the waist puts unnecessary stress on your lower spine.
- Avoid twisting your body, especially while bending, for the same reasons as above.
- Hold the client close to your body while lifting and transferring them. The closer you hold them the easier it is to maintain your natural center of gravity and remain steady on your feet. By extending your arms, you engage weaker muscles and increase the risk of slips, falls, and possibly dropping your client.
- Maintain a stance that is shoulder-width apart whenever possible, thus helping to maintain your balance and distribute your client's weight evenly.

Proper Technique for Moving A Client From A Bed To A Wheelchair:

- Identify the client's strongest side and position the wheelchair on that side.
- Lock the wheelchair's wheels to secure its position.
- Raise the bed (if they have a bed that adjusts) until it's slightly higher than the wheelchair.
- Do NOT pull the client into a seated position. Instead, either use the bed's electric controls to raise the head of the bed or help them "log roll" (first onto their side facing the wheelchair and then pushing them up, first to their elbow, then their hand, until they are seated fully upright). You may help them by supporting their back and helping them swing their legs over the side of the bed.

Champions of Homecare

- Keeping your legs shoulder-width apart, your back straight, and your knees bent, lift the client until they are in the standing position, otherwise known as the sit to stand lift.
- Pivot the client until they have their back to the wheelchair. Do this slowly and with conscious, continued effort – you want to guide them not push or pull, as sudden movements can unsettle their balance – and yours.
- While maintaining your stance, keeping your back and neck aligned, and bending at the knees and not the waist, slowly lower the client into the wheelchair.
- This same technique can be used to help a client from a sitting to a standing position, simply eliminate the steps with the wheelchair. It can also be used to assist a client from a sitting to standing position from a normal chair or while using the bathroom.

With a little practice and the knowledge mentioned above, moving a client can be an easily accomplished, safe task.

Employee Orientation and Training

Employees who provide individualized home support (without training), respite, homemaking, night supervision, or individual community living supports services are required to complete specific training prior to having contact with the participant. After the employee has cleared the Background Study, Accra will send the training materials to the employee. When Accra has received the documentation that the training has been completed, Accra will notify you that the employee may begin work. During the first day of work, you will need to provide orientation to the specific tasks and responsibilities that the employee will need to complete to meet the participant's needs. Please make sure to review the Support Plan addendum and the IAPP with the employee. Additional training is available to you and your employees through the College of Direct Supports. An informational sheet is included in this booklet. Please contact HR if you have additional questions.

Employees are required to complete training annually. Accra will send out the training materials to your employees. Please ensure that they complete the training and return the information to Accra.

In addition, you will need to complete a performance review with your employees annually. This can be completed when the employees are completing the annual training.

Change in Status

Champions of Homecare

Please inform Accra of any change in status to the employee including name, address, phone, email, etc. The updated information can be submitted by mail, or fax it to 952-935-7112 or 844-935-7112 (Toll-Free) or email it to Human Resources: employeecare@accracare.org

Ending Employment/Termination of Employment: Employees are not guaranteed ongoing employment. Accra may terminate employment at will and without notice; and employees may resign at will and without notice; however, client care must be arranged in cases in which employees choose to resign mid-shift.

Consideration for re-employment with Accra shall be conditional on whether a two-week notice was given and leaving was in good standing. A final check will be sent within the payroll cycle, when all correct completed time sheets are received.

When an employee voluntarily resigns their position, we ask that the notice be put in writing using the Resignation or Termination Form included in this manual and sent to Human Resources or by emailing employeecare@accracare.org. If there are performance or attendance issues, the representative should discuss these issues with Accra's service coordinator or Human Resources Department prior to termination. In all cases, the Responsible Party and/or the employee should notify Human Resources when employment has ended, by completing the Resignation or Termination Form found in this manual along with the signed last timesheet.

Payroll and Timesheets

Pay Periods

The work week is Sunday through Saturday. Accra provides a bi-weekly payroll. To request a copy of the payroll calendar, call 952-935-3515 or 866-935-3515 or download a copy of the calendar from www.accrahomecare.org.

Direct Deposit

Accra paychecks are issued through ADP. Two options are available - direct deposit or Aline card. Employees may access their pay stub information on-line through ADP at my.adp.com. Contact the service coordinator or HR if a paper copy of the pay stub is required.

Time Entry

All time entries must be completed correctly and approved by the client or representative and the employee at the time of services. Remember the following:

1. By approving the shift, the client or representative is confirming that the employee has actually worked the hours.
2. An employee can only submit a time entry that includes hours actually worked during the payroll period. Submission of time for hours not worked is fraud and evidence of fraud will be submitted to the Utilization and Surveillance Unit. The client or representative will be held accountable if they approved fraudulent time.

It is the employee's responsibility to submit their time to Accra correctly and on time. Please see the Payroll calendar for dates when timesheets are due, note that some holidays will require a different day of the week for submitting timesheets.

Accra has an e-mail notification system, available at no charge, to verify timesheet(s) were received and the number of hours processed. To sign up simply call our payroll department at 952-935-3515 or email them at payroll@accracare.org and provide them with the full name of the employee, the employee's ID number, and the email address.

Pay day is Monday (of the week following the timesheet due date). We cannot control the time that deposits are made by your bank. Call your bank for the time of deposit, as Accra does not have that information.

All payroll information is available online through ADP. For employees to access their information you need to register by doing the following:

1. Open <https://my.adp.com> in Google Chrome, Microsoft Internet Explorer or Apple Safari
2. Click Register Now

Paid Time Off Policy

Policy:

Effective July 1, 2018, Accra is offering Paid Time Off (PTO) to all employees working under the 245D license. All 245D licensed employees will earn one hour of PTO for every 30 hours of 245D services worked. Employees may begin taking PTO once they have it accrued.

Workers can carry over up to 80 hours of PTO from one State fiscal year to the next. The State's fiscal year is July 1 to June 30.

If a worker ends their employment with Accra, and has worked a minimum of 600 hours, they can request to be paid their accrued PTO. They can request accrued PTO up to a maximum of 80 hours by simply completing a PTO Request Form.

Procedure:

You are responsible for determining if you have the hours available to take PTO by reviewing your online ADP Paystub.

You are required to get permission from the participant to use PTO. The participant is required to secure replacement care when a worker uses PTO.

You must complete the Accra PTO Request Form available on our website:

www.accrahomecare.org. Click on "Employee Resources", under the Employees Tab, located along the top of the homepage. Have the form signed by the Responsible Party and turn it in with your timecard in the pay period when you are taking PTO.

Frequently Asked Questions:

- Q. Will PTO hours count towards overtime?
- A. No, overtime is only calculated on actual hours worked.
- Q. I am limited to 40 hours a week, if I take PTO do I have to reduce my hours that week?
- A. No, PTO does not count towards the maximum of 40 hours in a work week.
- Q. Can I use PTO hours when the participant is hospitalized?
- A. Yes, if you have accrued PTO hours, and are not working due to the participant being hospitalized and cannot receive services, you can use PTO. You will need to fill out the PTO Request Form and check the box that says, “the participant is hospitalized and I am requesting to use ___ hours of PTO.” Submit the PTO Request Form with your timecard for the pay period when the participant was hospitalized.

Champions of Homecare

- Q. If I provide services to more than one participant, who approves PTO requests?
- A. You should obtain permission from each participant for whom you were scheduled to work during the period in which you want to take time off.
- Q. Will hours used for PTO impact the number of hours the participant has available for services.
- A. No, PTO hours are not taken from the participant’s total available hours.

Procedure for Processing PTO Requests:

The timesheet is processed by employee services like other timesheets, but in addition to proofing the timesheet for dates, times, and signatures, employee services verifies there is sufficient PTO accumulated to cover the requested hours.

IRS Notice 2014-7

In January 2014, the IRS issued Notice 2014-7 stating that certain wages earned by employees providing services to individuals on a Medicaid Waiver can be excluded from federal income tax.

- This applies to employees living fulltime in the home with the Medicaid waiver person they provide services to.
- It may also apply to other Medicaid programs similar to waiver funded programs such as PCA Choice or Consumer Support Grant. However, the IRS makes the determination and not an agency, such as Accra.

For additional information visit the IRS website:

http://www.irs.gov/irb/2014-4_IRB/ar06.html

<http://www.irs.gov/Individuals/Certain-Medicaid-Waiver-Payments-May-Be-Excludable-From-Income>

Other 2014-7 Implications:

- Claiming 2014-7 and reducing the Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) on tax form 1040 could have other implications if the employee receives benefits or insurance calculated on a person's AGI like TEFRA payments for MA or health insurance eligibility.
- 2014-7 does not apply to Paid Time Off wages.
- An employee may also file an amended tax return for previous tax years to benefit from 2014-7.
- MN Revenue applies 2014-7 to state income tax if an individual claims the exclusion.

Accra does not pursue this for employees and Accra staff are not tax professionals.

- It is up to the employee/tax payer to verify their own tax exemptions.
- Employees should consult with their income tax preparer to determine whether, for example, the 2014-7 exclusion or the Earned Income Credit (EIC) is best for their situation.
- If an employee or tax preparer wants proof that the wages paid were waiver funded, Accra can provide this.

Cultural Competency Policy

Policy:

It is the policy of Accra to support a workplace that recognizes and respects the unique gifts that each individual brings to Accra. All Accra 245D employees are trained, and expected, to consider the individual's specific culture when providing, or planning to provide, 245D services.

Definition: For the purposes of this policy, the following terms have the meaning given in sections 245D.02 of the 245D Home and Community-based Service Standards.

"Cultural Competence" or "Culturally Competent" means the ability and the will to respond to the unique needs of a person that arise from the person's culture and the ability to use the person's culture as a resource or tool to assist with the intervention and help meet the person's needs.

Procedure

- A. Recognizing the importance of a person's culture.
Every person's cultural background influences his or her beliefs, attitudes and behaviors. As part of their work, 245D Support Staff, should consider the cultural values, norms and beliefs that shape the person's understanding of how their services should be provided.
- B. Cultural areas to consider while planning, or providing, 245D Services:
 - Communication: What is the proper form of address for the person? When is physical contact - such as a handshake - acceptable? Should eye contact be avoided? What do certain gestures mean and which ones are, potentially, unacceptable to the person?
 - Diet: What are the person's food customs? Are there any culturally prohibited foods?
 - Family: How and when should you communicate with family members? Is a family member the dominant personality? Is a family member providing care for the person? How does that affect the employee's role?

Champions of Homecare

- Space: What are the cultural and/or religious customs regarding personal space and contact? What are the person's preferences regarding communication distance?
- Social Customs: What dates are important to the person and their family? Why are these dates important? What is the importance and use of rituals? How could social customs influence the employee's ability to perform their cares?
- Health Traditions: How does the person define Health and Illness?

Developing understanding and behaviors, that enable cultural awareness, sensitivity and competence are important because caregiving means different things to different people. Knowledge of common practices, viewpoints, and customs provides a foundation for a strong caregiver/client relationship.

C. Training:

Per Minnesota Chapter 9544 (Positive Support Rule), training on Cultural Competency is included in all 245D employee's initial, and annual trainings.

Any employee who engages in harassment; who permits employees under his/her supervision to engage in such harassment; or who retaliates or permits retaliation against an employee who reports such harassment is guilty of misconduct and shall be subject to immediate remedial action that may include discipline or termination of employment.

Employee Rights and Responsibilities:

Employees are entitled to timely resolution of any complaints about harassing or inappropriate behavior. In addition, employees are protected from retaliation for making a complaint or exercising other rights protected by law.

It is an employee's responsibility and obligation to report harassing or inappropriate behavior, whether it is directed at them or it is something they have seen or heard that was directed at someone else. Any manager or supervisor who learns of or observes harassing or inappropriate behavior, or receives a complaint about this kind of behavior, should immediately report the behavior or complaint to Human Resources or the Chief Compliance Officer.

Accra will investigate the situation and take timely and appropriate action to correct it. Definitions

Ombudsman is an official who is designated to assist you to overcome the delay, injustice, or impersonal delivery of services.

Client is any person served by an agency, facility, or program, who is receiving services or treatment for mental illness, developmental disabilities, chemical dependency, or emotional disturbance.

Agency means (1) the divisions, officials, or employees of the Department of Human Services, Department of Health, Department of Education, local school districts, or (2) county social services agencies "that are engaged in monitoring, providing, or regulating services or treatment for mental illness, developmental disabilities, chemical dependency, or emotional disturbance."

Facility or program means a residential or non-residential program or an acute care inpatient facility that provides services or treatment for mental illness, developmental disabilities, chemical dependency, or emotional disturbance. The latter includes psychiatric units in private hospitals.

Why call an Ombudsman?

You may choose to call with:

- a concern or complaint about services.
- a question about rights.
- a grievance.
- access to appropriate services.
- an idea for making services better.
- a general question or need for information concerning services for persons with mental disabilities.

How We Decide Who We Can Assist

Concerns or complaints can come from any source, and should involve the actions or inactions of an agency, facility, or program. Issues can be client-specific or a system-wide concern.

Priority is given to:

- Matters affecting the health, safety, or welfare of clients.
- Situations of abuse or neglect.
- A disregard of client rights.
- The deaths and serious injuries of clients.
- The quality of services provided.
- Policies and practices that diminish client dignity or independence.
- Laws or rules, their interpretation and their effect on services to clients.

Actions We May Take

The Office tries to resolve concerns or complaints in a way that improves the quality of care clients receive.

Possible actions by the Office include:

- Mediate or advocate on behalf of a client.
- Consult with providers about policies, practices, and procedures.
- Gather and analyze information.
- Conduct reviews and/or investigations.
- Review Deaths and Serious Injuries.
- Examine records.
- Make site visits.
- Make recommendations, issue reports, and monitor results.

Things to Try Before Calling an Ombudsman

A difference of opinion or misunderstanding is often resolved by simply taking the time to talk and listen. Here are some basic steps in trying to resolve the issue yourself.

- Be Prepared - have relevant information available before you call the agency or program. A short telephone call may save hours of time and headaches.
- Be Pleasant - treat others as you would like to be treated. Getting angry or rude will not resolve the problem and may confuse the real issues.
- Keep Records - take notes, ask for names and titles of those you speak to and keep all correspondence.
- Ask Questions - ask why the agency or program did what they did. Ask for the relevant rules, policies, or laws.
- Read Everything Sent To You - Many agency decisions may be appealed but there are deadlines and procedures to follow.

If you have followed these suggestions and are unable to resolve your problem, please give us a call. We may be able to assist you.

When you make a complaint in good faith, Minnesota State Law protects you from retaliation.
